

Otto Bock Kiwi

Lets Children's Eyes Light Up

With its filigree structure, Kiwi proves that a rehabilitation product can meet all the day-to-day requirements of children with slight to moderate handicaps, while at the same time it looks just as smart as a mainstream sports buggy.

The base frame provides an extremely lightweight yet very stable drive base which can easily fold into a handy package in just a few simple steps. The push bar is easy to adapt for any attendant – without the use of tools. The seat and back angle adjustments are just as user-friendly.

The seat itself is slightly trough-shaped, giving it a nest-like feel where a child can feel snug and secure.
